

ACROSS

3. This member of the cat family has tufted ears, a short tail and eats mostly snowshoe hares.
4. This group of pouched animals include kangaroos, wallabies, koalas and wombats.
5. This group of animals has the only mammals that can fly (not including gliders).
7. This gnawing animal is often thought to be a rodent, but is really in a group with pika and hares called the lagomorphs.
9. This animal is the only marine mammal that eats only plants and has been called the cow of the sea.
10. This largest member of the cat family is found in the rainforests of Asia, India and in Siberia.
15. When an animal mates for life it is said to be _____.
17. A mammal with gnawing incisors, like a mouse or beaver is called a _____.
19. When an animal lives alone, except to breed, it is said to be _____.
20. This is the largest member of the deer family with giant palmate antlers.
21. A warm blooded animal that is born live and fed milk by its mother is a _____.
22. This animal is small and often mistaken for a mouse, but is actually a fierce carnivore that eats mice!

Mammals

DOWN

1. A mammal group with canines for tearing, that includes wolves, tigers, weasels and bears are the _____.
2. Alone in its group, this mammal is the largest land animal on Earth.
6. This animal group includes monkeys, apes, lemurs and people.
8. This is the only member of the deer family where both males and females both have antlers.
11. This group of animals has both toothed carnivores and filtering krill eaters.
12. When an animal is active at night, it is said to be _____.
13. When a male animal mates with a harem of females it is said to be _____.
14. An animal that has a backbone is a _____.
16. This bear is a carnivore, but has an omnivorous diet (two words).
18. When an animal is active during the day, it is said to be _____.

ACROSS

3. This member of the cat family has tufted ears, a short tail and eats mostly snowshoe hares.
4. This group of pouched animals include kangaroos, wallabies, koalas and wombats.
5. This group of animals has the only mammals that can fly (not including gliders).
7. This gnawing animal is often thought to be a rodent, but is really in a group with pika and hares called the lagomorphs.
9. This animal is the only marine mammal that eats only plants and has been called the cow of the sea.
10. This largest member of the cat family is found in the rainforests of Asia, India and in Siberia.
15. When an animal mates for life it is said to be _____.
17. A mammal with gnawing incisors, like a mouse or beaver is called a _____.
19. When an animal lives alone, except to breed, it is said to be _____.
20. This is the largest member of the deer family with giant palmate antlers.
21. A warm blooded animal that is born live and fed milk by its mother is a _____.
22. This animal is small and often mistaken for a mouse, but is actually a fierce carnivore that eats mice!

Mammals

CARNIVORE

2 E

3 LYNX

MARSUPIALS

E H

S BATS

6 P

7 RABBIT

8 C

9 MANATEE

R T

10 TIGER

B O

11 W

H

12 N

13 P

14 V

15 MONOGAMOUS

16 E

17 RODENT

18 C

19 SOLITARY

20 MOOSE

21 MAMMAL

22 SHREW

B L

C K

B E

A R

DOWN

1. A mammal group with canines for tearing, that includes wolves, tigers, weasels and bears are the _____.
2. Alone in its group, this mammal is the largest land animal on Earth.
6. This animal group includes monkeys, apes, lemurs and people.
8. This is the only member of the deer family where both males and females both have antlers.
11. This group of animals has both toothed carnivores and filtering krill eaters.
12. When an animal is active at night, it is said to be _____.
13. When a male animal mates with a harem of females it is said to be _____.
14. An animal that has a backbone is a _____.
16. This bear is a carnivore, but has an omnivorous diet (two words).
18. When an animal is active during the day, it is said to be _____.

